Washington, Nov 2 - SENATE—The Chinese bill, extending the provisions of the so-called Beary set, with certain medifications, was the principal incasure before the senate Wed-uesday. Mr Squire, of Washington, introduced che priocipal incaure before the senate Wednesday. Mr. Squire, of Washington, introduced an amendment providing for an appropriation of $1.00.00 to carry out the provisions of this and other statu as He quoted from letters of the secretary of the treasury as to the cost of deportation, and minimised that without an appropriation sufficient to show the intention of the government to enforce the act all further legislation would be useless, except to the extent of the $5.000 already appropriated, and which remains to be expended. Mr. Squire a meanment proposed to appropriate $10,000 from the present time to inclinate the excussions of the later time to inclinate the excussions of the intention of the United States government.

to Custom of bhaving Among Servan Made Compulsory in England— Wealthy Americans Follow the European Style.

The row which the waiters and hack drivers kicked up the other day when it was proposed to rob them of their beards and mustaches is a new evidence of humanity's progress toward equality. Their success knocked down another old idol, for a smooth face has been used as a badge of screitade since the time King Solomon contracted the habits of marrying three times a day and making promiseuous proverbs.

Kings from Solomon and David down through ancient and medieval and modern history always required their servants to take the first drink from every bottle of wine, as a precaution against poison. The personal servant of the king in early history always had to have a clean-shaven face, says the

and the early part of this take and the servant in England was actually less conspicuous than it has been for the last fifty years. When men come as menced to adopt the long, full-legged for trousers, to abandon the wig and to wear full beards, they made their personal men servants continus to observe the old styles. aspect of prosperity.

White some of the features of this gaudy, picturesque livery have been abandoned in all the best English houses, the clean-shaven face is to-day steadily required, not only of the coachmar and butler but of all household servants, with the possible excep tion of the gardener. It was not notif about twenty-seven years ago, howwas observed at all in New York. About that time August Relmont, Edward Mathewa and J. G. Bennett put their stables and coaches in charge of Englishmen and Scotchmen. These imported servants put the custom in vogue in this city. Up to that time the achman of even the wealthiest fami lies in the city sat in their boxes with-out uniform or livery and wore his board or didn't, as he pleased.
